In Summer-time the most common route for cattle from Certral Illinois is on foot to Laporte-on cars to Teledo-on steamers to Dunkirk or Buffslo, and cars by the Erie or Central New-York roads to this city.

In Winter, the cartle from that region come up the Ulmois Central, or the Rock Island road to Jolliet, and thence by the "Cut off" to Lake Station, and thence by the Michigan Central to Detroit, and Suspension Bridge; or else they go up to Chicago, and take the read either to Detroit or Toledo, and thence by the Take shore via Cleveland, Erie, Dunkirk, &c. From Indianapolis to New York, via Gallion, Cleveland Erie, Dunkirk, and the Erie Road, the distance is 883 miles, and cost $198 per car, averaging about $13 per head for bollocks. The time required is from six to miles, and cost $198 per car, averaging about $13 per lead for builders. The time required is from six to ten days, including stops.

"The business of transporting live stock by Railroad (says Mr. Remick) is now a very important as well as a very profitable transaction; it is a business that is increasing every year. The state of Chio hast year sent to New York by Railroad, over gist cartie. Illinois over If 700; Kentucky, 3,000 and Indiana, 7,000. The New York and Eric Railroad, isst year, shipped $190. "The following figures will show still more clearly the amount and value of this trade; one half of the above number of castle is 42,560, to which must be saided 10,600 or more that Boston received from the same States during the year, making over 196,600 hor foright on castle, then 600,000 from all the above States of tot less than will be per head, maxing 51,280,000 for foright on castle, then 600,000 from all the above states of tot less than will at year, and any of the same states of tot see than will be per head, maxing 51,280,000 for fore and in the second of the same states of tot see than will be per head, maxing 51,280,000 for free and in the se route that will afford the best facilities, not only in cars and speed, but in resting places for cattle, will be the one to receive the most favor from stock men. We think too, cattle should never be allowed to remain on the cars over twenty four hours at one time, as they not only suffer severely from fatigue, but hunger and thirst, and during the past Winter from cold. We notieed one drove, nearly half of them with frozen noses. It is a great error for drovers to crowd cars too full, bu that will always be the case while the tariff is so much

There is quite a difference in the capacity of cars upon different roads. The Canada road gives 250 superficial feet, upon which 18 head of medium bullooks can stand. The Eric road cars are conerally 240 feet floor surface. The Southern Michigan gives 200 feet of floor surface, which will allow 16 head to stand so the drovers say, as comfortably as 15 head can upor the cars of the Michigan Central.

We congratulate the farmers and cattle raisers and drovers of the West that they have all these routes open to them at such moderate rates. We think that all are or soon will be needed, and that all should make a fair profit upon the transportation business; and for the sake of producer and consumer we hope all the reads will be able and willing to reduce the tariff to a "live and let live," fair principle, if the present rates are above that equivalent.

FIRES.

FIRE IN RIVINGTON STREET.

On Thursday morning about 23 o'clock a fire was discovered in the six story building rear of No. 311 Riv ington street, occupied as a piano-forte manufactory by Bennett & Co. An unuusal light was first seen in the basement, and upon a further examination, a lot of pine planks were found to be on fire. The firemen promptly responded to the alarm, and by their united exertions soon succeeded in extinguishing the fire, confining the flames to the basement, first and second stories. The estimated loss on stock is about $1,000, and on the building about $300. Building is the St. Nicholas Insurance Company. Mr. Bennett is insured on stock to the amount of $8,000, which is equally divided in the St. Mark's, St. Nicholas, Ham ilton and Lafarge Insurance Companies. The fire was discovered by the keeper of a German boarding-house at No. 315, whose premises extended to the factory. FIRE IN WASHINGTON SQUARE,

About 111 o'clock a. m. on Thursday a fire broke out in the lower part of the green house connected with the dwelling No. 2 Washington square, owned and occupied by Mr. Shepherd Knapp. It seems that the chambermaid emptied some wood ashes into a barrel kept for that purpose, among which there doubtless was a number of live coals, as, a few hours afterward, the barrel and a partition near which it stood were discovered to be on fire. The flames were subdued with a few pails of water. Damage about $25. Insured.

FIRE IN WATER STREET.

The alarm of fire in the VIth District on Thursday afternoon was caused by the burning of a large quantity of hemp on the dock at the head of Water street. Stevedores were engaged in discharging the hemp from the ship John Gilpin, when some sparks from a tar-boiling furnace on the dock blown among the bales set the material in flames. The hemp was consigned to J. Mathaway & Co., and the loss is estimated at $500. No insurance. FIRE IN EIGHTEENTH STREET.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock a fire broke out in a row of stables rear of No. 105 Eighteenth street, and before the flames could be subdued the premise were damaged to the amount of about $600. No insurance. The property was owned by Mr. White, FIRE IN PEARL STREET,

About 6 o'clock yesterday morning the roof of the brush manufactory of H. Smith, No. 247 Pearl street, was discovered to be on fire. The roof was partially destroyed, and the contents of the building were con siderably damaged by the water used to extinguish the flames. Loss about $4,000 by fire and water. Partly covered by insurance.

THE FIRE IN GOLD STREET.

The loss of Messrs. Lowerre, Hawley & Co., whose establishment in Gold street was destroyed by fire, as reported in yesterday's TRIBUNE, is estimated at about $20,000. The firm had but a few thousand dollars insurance on their property.

The flames communicated to No. 38, occupied by Hager, jr. & Co. as a Type Foundery, nearly destroy ing the upper stories of the building; the lower floors were much damaged by water. The building belonged to J. C. Cruger, and was insured for $3,008 only $1,500 in the Astor, and $1,500 in the Stuyvesant offices. Mr. Hager's loss is entirely covered by insur anen in the Columbia, Fulton, and Irving Companies E. F. Pruden, Job Printer, occupied the third floor of No. 38: his stock was entirely destroyed. No less than five buildings have been burned within twenty years on the site of No 40 and 42. The fire originated in a back building from the steam-engine, the journalof which became over-heated in consequence of ne gleeting to oil them.

CORRECTION. We have received a letter from Mr. J. W. Wallack, in which he denies that an alarm of fire was given it his Theater on Thursday night, and that the audience rushed out in a great panic. On the contrary, he says they remained quietly throughout the entire play, and then left with their usual deliberation.

ANOTHER BURNING-FLUID ACCIDENT. FIVE PERSONS BADLY BURNED.

Another burning fluid accident occurred on Thursday night, which resulted in five persons, living at Nos. 250 and 254 Stanton street, having their lives endangered through the alleged carelessness of a female engaged in filling a fluid lamp. Esther Cohen, it appears, was replenishing the lamp with fluid by candle-light and doing so the dangerous material caught fire and instantly burst the can and lamp, causing a loud report. The garments of Esther, her sister Eliza, as well as these of Simon Straus, his wife and daughter, who were in the room, caught fire and before the flames could be extinguished all of the unfortunates were dangerously burned. A physician was soon in attendance and rendered all the aid in his power.

GREAT FOOT RACE —The best time on record came off over the Union Course, Long Island, on Thursday afternoon, April 10, between Joshua Van Name and Sewell Dedge, for $500. They ran 200 yards in 21 seconds. The betting half an hour previous to the race was brisk at evens, but on stripping Van Name became the favorite. They bounded away at a splitting pace, Dodge with the lead, which he main ained until within 30 yards of the score, when Van Name passed him and ran in a winner of the race. Dodge was the fleeter of the two, and after trying all that nature would permit to win, gave in dead beat. It was

HUDSON RIVER OPEN-FIRST STEAMBOAT FROM NEW-YORK.-The steamer P. G. Coffin, Captain Holmes, from Hudson, reached Albany at an early hour on Thursday morning. The Captain reports that he encountered no ice on the passage. The Coffin was followed by the steamer South America, which left New-York Wednesday evening with passengers and freight, reaching Albany about 11 o'clock Thursday morning. There were no obstructions of moment encountered below Hudson. Navigation is now fairly open. The South America left for New-York again on Thursday evening. The following table shows the opening days on the Hudson for the past twelve years: | Feb. 24 | 1851 | Feb. 24 | 1851 | Feb. 24 | 1846 | March 18 | 1852 | March 28 | 1847 | March 31 | 1848 | April 7 | 1854 | March 31 | 1848 | April 7 | 1854 | March 18 | 1849 | March 26 | March 27 | 1856 | April 10 | 1856 | Apr

AMERICAN WIDOWS' RELIEF ASSOCIATION .- At a meeting of the Board of Trustees last evening, the Secretary reported the receipt and distribution, since the first of November last, of $3,028 in cash, and $1,000 in groceries, provisions, clothing, &c., and that the funds of the Association are now completely exhausted, and yet there is a constant demand for assistance, principally from families who are solely dependent upon their needles, which, since the introduction of sewing-machines, are entirely inadequate for their support; and many families thus situated, who have known only the comforts of life in former days, are now reduced to extreme poverty.

The fellowing list of articles redeemed from the the prices at which they were pledged, will illustrate the straits to which poor sewing women are frequently driven for bread for their children. This was the widow of a ship-carpenter, who, like ten thousand other mechanics in receipt of good wages, had probably spent, day by day, his daily carnings, leaving his family without means of support:

77 Articles, at	nounting to

Every one of the above articles would have been lost to the owners, for the little pittance received, but for the timely aid received from the Association.

The Secretary's report also shows, that since the organization of the Association in January, 1855, aid has been given to 815 families, in sums varying from $1 to $160 to a family; and that 475 families, which have been fully reported by the visitors, were born

the following localities, to wit:
New-York City 188 Maryland
N Verk State (out of City), 129 Virginia
New Jersey So South Carolina
Maine 5 Louislana
New Hampshire 4 Georgia
Vermont 3 Kentucky

With these families are reported 1,600 children of all ages, and from almost all conditions of life. A very few have died; a few have left the city; a few have been crossed off the books entirely for cause; and a few, by the little timely assistance received, have been enabled to get into a position to live without further aid.

The Society have assisted several women and children to leave the city for better situations in the country. Quite a number have gone to the Shakers at New Lebanon; one has gone to Kansas; but the great mass are here, unwilling or unable to get away, and certainly unable to live here; they only stay, and are growing poorer and poorer every day. The most of them are inmates of some of the great caravansaries of the city, called tenant-houses, where the are mixed up with the misery of those who generally fill up such abodes in this city. Such a residence is great change for those who have heretofore enjoyed the luxuries of a home in their own house. The Trustees, finding the number of families entirely beyond the means of the Association, and requiring more labor than they are able to perform, since all their labors are gratuitous, have adopted the following | trial yesterday in the General Sessions, no business select from the entire list such names as he or the visiters are willing to take in charge, which selection is to be approved by the Board, and in future all contributions are to be confined to this selected member. New applicants are to be nominated by a Trustee or Life member, and if accepted, to be entered upon the books of the Association as one of their beneficiaries. It was also resolved hereafter to confine the contributions more strictly to that class of families who have been reduced by misfortunes from comfort to want, and who have too much native pride to beg or become voluntary recipients of charity; and principally to families of women and helpless children who strive to live neat and respectable. For such purposes the Trustees will gladly receive donations.

MILITARY COURT OF ISQUIRY .- It will be remem bered by our readers that Lieut. Horace Haldeman, after his late trial and acquittal by Court-Martial, resigned his commission and retired from the army. As a citizen, he then wrote to the Secretary of War, stating that he had paid certain sums of money to Lieut, Willard, which that officer had failed to account for. At the same time Mr Haldeman offered evidence to prove the truth of his charges. The President has, upon this charge, ordered a Court of Inquiry to assem-ble at No. 6 State street, in this city, to investigate the money accounts of Lieut G. L. Willard, 8th Infantry. The Court is composed of Major Eston, of the Commissery Department; Major French, 1st Artiflery; and Capt. Todd, of the 6th Infantry. To-day, at 11 o'clock, the Court will enter upon its duties. Lieut. Haldeman, and other witnesses in the case, are now in GENTEEL LOAFERS, GAMBLERS AND PICKPOCKETS .-Every afternoon may be seen scattered along the promenade side of Broadway any quantity of those chevaliers d'industrie known as gamblers, pickpockets, decoy-ducks, and thimble-riggers. There they stand in squads of two, three or four, for hours together, on corner of Canal street, Heward street, Spring street, and all along shore, looking out for "game." Their appearance is that of finished gentlemen, and it is but seldom that they use any familiarity with each other. Tiring of one place, these genteel loafers move about from one corner to another, shifting their position three or four times in the course of an afternoon. Now you see them, now you don't see them; and like betting which thimble the little joker is under, it would be risky for any one passing up Broadway to bet where he would see these chevaliers on his return down town. Here stands one on this corner, a tall man, whisker slightly red and trimmed a la militaire, glossy silk hat, and black clothes. He seldom speaks to any one in the street, and always looks serious.

Here comes another down the street-middling hight, mustache, curly black hair, glossy black hat, fancy vest, plaid pants, and new patent-leather boots, light yellow gloves and a small cane. Number three-a dapper little man-glossy silk hat, rather low crown, with broad brim, dark clothes, and an immense strut. This will suffice; for they all appear alike; they all have a regular hang-dog look, and not one of them will meet you eye to eye, but slink away at a penetrating glance.

Ere long, however, these genteel loafers will be driven entirely from Broadway, where they have long been an eye-sore to respectable citizens, or compelled to move up and down. The corner of Canal and Broadway has recently undergone such a change that these fellows cannot loaf there. The proprietor of the shop on the north-west corner has placed a strong iron railing at the edge of his stoop, which, with the constant attendance of one of the Reserved Corps at that point, has had the effect of driving away the loungers to another quarter.

The rum-shop on the corner above has vanished, and in its place a store of some description will shortly be opened. This corner has long been a favorite resort of gamblers and other birds of that feather; but the "place that knew them once will know them no more.

The building on the diagonal corner from the above, once occupied by Bill Poole as a drinking saloon, has, since the death of that individual, been tenantless. The structure wears a condemned look, and the corner will probably never be occupied until a new building is erected on the site. Stanwix Hall, the place where Poole was killed, notwitstanding its change of name to the Revere House, never recovered from the blow its presperity received on that fatal night. For a month or more past it has been tenant-less, and with a bill "To Let" hanging in the window. The place seemed haunted, and with its dismal look has long been shunned. last, however, some enterprising shopkeeper has hired it, and workmen are now busy obliterating all traces of the saloon where the bloody tragedy was enacted, and converting it into a store. This was once a great lounging place for the "fancy," but like the City Hotel, gride to Philosophy and the hardmand of Christianity. When the property is a public benefactor." the place that knew them once shall know them no more. The breaking up of these old haunts is producing a good effect, and these genteel loafers, who always wear good clothes but can never be seen doing anything honest, will be driven from the street. Several shopkeepers on Broadway where many of these fellows were in the habit of spending the afternoons, had great difficulty in getting rid of them, and it was only by persevering in the matter that they could clear

ROW IN A PORTER-HOUSE-TWO MEN SHOT .- On Thursday evening a row took place in the porter-house of John Coffee, No. 158 Maiden-lane, during which a man named Owen Kelly and another, name unknown, were shot. It appears that Patrick O'Con nor, residing at No. 362 Broadway, called at the place to collect from its proprietor pay for some specimens of gold which he had sold him. A quarrel in relation to the matter ensued, and O'Connor was badly beaten by Coffee and Henry Burke, his barkeeper, and one Dennis McCrete. While the attack was being made O'Connor drew a pistol and discharged two barrels of it at Coffee, but he missed his aim, and one of the shots took effect in Kelly's breast, inflicting a severe but not dangerous wound. The other ball passed through the leg of another man, who also escaped very dangerous injury. Yesterday morning O'Connor made a complaint against Coffee, Burke and McCrete for beating him, and a warrant was issued for their arrest, but before it was served Kelly appeared at the Court and made an affidavit against O'Connor for shooting him. O'Connor was arrested and Justice Connolly held him to bail in $1,000 to appear for examination. He states that he used the pistol in self

CHARGE OF MUTINY AND MURDER AT SEA .- The ship Underwriter, Capt. Shipley, from Liverpool, which arrived here a few days since, after a very tedious and tempestuous voyage, brought nine of the crew in irons, who had been confined during the latter part of the passage for an attempt at mutiny: their names are Silas B. Phillips, Joseph Smith, James Reiley, John Robinson, Joseph Gilman, Charles Lester, Michael Mahen, Wm. Welch, and Huron Fisher. These parties were brought before United States Commissioner Morton on Wednesday, and committed for examination. They make a counter complaint against the First Mate, Wm. Welsh, and the Third Mate, Thomas Keel, charging the former with cruel treatment, and the latter with the infliction of injuries which led to the death of one of the crew. The appearance of these men was most repulsive, they havng become emaciated by confinement and scanty food, and their countenances exhibited the marks of brutal treatment. One had several teeth knocked out; another was severely bruised about the head; and several showed violent contusions about their faces and other parts of their persons. The two mates were arrested on Thursday, on board the Underwriter, and likewise committed. Both the crew and mates were conveyed to Eldridge street Jail. An examination will take place in a few days.

In consequence of there being no cases ready for rules for their future government: Each Trustee is to | was transacted and the Court adjourned for the day.

ARREST OF A YOUNG FUGITIVE .- A French youth ARREST OF A YOUNG FUGITIVE.—A French wouth about 17 years of age, was on Thursday brought to this city frem Massachusetts, on a charge of grand larcenty, preferred by Mr Dunoset, of No. 25 Washer street, from whom, it is alleged, he stele 2,000 france, on the 27th till. It is stated that the parties arrived together from France a short time since, and put up at the above number. That Julius Solomons, the Freuch youth referred to, robbed his friend of the above sum and fied to Beston, where he fired "fast" at one of the hotels, and som spent nearly all the money. He then went to Paimer, Mass, where he got rid of the remainder, and was ranning up a hotel bill when arrested. He was taken to the Lower Police Cour, and there stated to the Massistrate that the complainant was intrusted with money for his Solomonus benefit and export, but refused to allow him any of it. He then helped himself to what he claimed as his own, and went off with it. He was held to await examination on the charge.

CHARGE OF HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Three young men, named Charles Wilkinson, Charles Beans, and John Donoto, were on Thursday trought before Justice Connotly, charged with highway robbery apon the person of Henry Dubots of No. 193 Worth street. The complainant states that about 20 clock yesterday morning he was standing near his residence talking to a female, when the accused came up, and, without provocation, assaulted him, knocking him down as desting him in a most correspond only blows for her pains. The neighborhood was stoned by his cries for help, and soon Others Baker and Lieut. ACCIDENT ON THE CAMDEN AND AMBOT RAILROAD. The Philadelphia train had a smash-up at about 3 o'clock a. m. on Friday, near Bristol. One of the passengers, who came in on the train, was much frightened but not burt. The escape of 100 of the passengers from injury was remarkable. The accident men-tioned happened to the Owl train. The train was five minutes behind time at Bristol, and between that place and Trenton the engineer ran his train very fast to make up. Midway between the twoplaces the accident occurred. It was caused by a horse falling into the cow pit. The engine struck the horse and cut it to pieces. The engine, baggage car and forward car were thrown off the track. The engineer and fireman were badly burt, but the passengers fortunately escaped without material injury. The train was delayed five hours by the accident.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION .- The proceedings of the Republican State Convention at Newark on Wednesday, after the close of our report, consisted of speeches from the Hon. John A. Bingham, Member of Congress from Ohio, and Gen. Nye of New-York, both of which were able and effective.

The Newark Mercury, in speaking of this movement,

The Newark Mercury, in speaking of this movement, says:

"The inauguration of the Republican movement in New-Jersey, which took place in this city yesterday, is an event pregnant, we confidently believe, with important consequences. Men of intelligence, of character, and of true patriotic stamina, attended from event Congressional district, and displayed an earnest devotion to the cause. They acted as men who felt conscious that they were carrying out the general sentiment of their respective neighborhoods; and they assisted in perfecting the preliminaries for a thorough State organization, with an alacrity and zeal betokening the firmest faith in the ultimate success of the good work.

"The Republican bark is, therefore, launched in this State under encouraging auspices, and a prosperous

"The Republican bark is, therefore, launched in this State under encouraging auspices, and a prosperous veyage is before her, if those who sail under her colors shall faithfully perform their duty. We do not wish to disguise from ourselves the fact that the victory can only be achieved by persistent and determined labor. The cause needs the best efforts of all its friends. These who stood with us and triumphed with us in 1854 are again to be gathered together and placed in rank for a united struggle.

"The moderation and telerance exhibited by all who participated in the meeting vesterday cannot be too strongly commended. The assemblage presented the spectacle of a body of men who fitmly asserted their own principles without indulging in denunciation of those sections of the Opposition which, by their hesitancy and irresolution, are affording indirect assistance to the existing Administration. This course is worthy of all emulation. Let us all strive to remember it; and while applying all our powers to framing the strongest arguments in behalf of the Republican cause, let us ever evince a conciliatory spirit toward those who, though differing with us upon unessential points, are really with us upon the main question.

The plaintiff seeks to recover damages from the Corporation for injeries sustained in consequence of being precipitated into an excavation in Fourth avenue.

The accident took place between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning of the 11th of December, 1849, when the plaintiff was itding home in a carriage with his wife and daughter.

The excavation was made by the Hariam Railroad while

The excavation was made by the Hariem Railroad while laying down their tracks and was some forty feet in depth at the point where the overturn took place.

This is the third suit srowing out of the same matter. In one brought in schalf of Mrs. Hutson, damages to the amount of $43,000 were recovered; in another by the owners of the carriege, the Jury rendered a verdict of $465.30.

Both of these cases were carried up on exceptions from a single Jodge to the General Term of the Superior Court, and thence to the Court of Appeals, which sustained the finding of the Jury and decided that the Corporation is liable, at the suit of an individual, for the non-repair of the streets of the city. Essentially the same points there raised were taken by the Corporation Counsel, in support of a motion for a nonsult, which was overruled.

Verdict $2,000; claim $5,000.
